Business Insurance

Do you own a business, large or small? Maybe you operate out of your home... Are you properly protected? There is an abundance of insurance out there to make sure every aspect of your business is covered.

Let me introduce you to the most common policies:

- General Liability: Commonly referred to as “trip & fall” insurance, this protects you from much more than that. All businesses should be protected by this policy at the very least.
- Property: Much like homeowners insurance, you need protection for the building you operate from (if you own it) and your contents inside (furniture, supplies, electronics, etc.).
- Business Auto Liability: If your company owns a vehicle, you need this policy. You may also require it should you use your personal vehicle primarily for business purposes.
